The Holy Day season

For the two months that this issue covers I would like to reflect upon three seemingly unconnected events.

Firstly, near the beginning of the month we celebrate the Transfiguration of our Lord (6th August). Near the end of the September 29th is the feast of St Michael and All Angels. Throughout these two months, many members of our congregations will be going off on their holidays. So, you might ask, what is the connection, apart from the fact that they all share in some form of the familiar title – ‘holy-days’ or ‘holidays’.

Let me take the two Christian festivals first – this is the easy link. The transfiguration celebrates that occasion when our Lord goes up the mountain with three of his apostles and there in their presence is transfigured – glorified. In other words, they get a brief glimpse of the future when our Lord will reign in glory in heaven. In the second feast day, St Michael and All Angels we are very much thrust into the heavenly realms when we commemorate the Archangel Michael and his Angels doing battle against the forces of evil in the heavenly realms. Two glimpses of heaven brought down amongst everyday, ordinary life.

That’s the easy bit. But how does a glimpse of heaven on earth fit in with holidays.

Well you could say for some people that holidays are heaven, but that is being a bit trite. Let’s begin by thinking about why we take holidays. Although motives may be mixed, I guess the main reasons why most people take a holiday break is to have a rest from the normal routine; relax and hopefully return refreshed and renewed.

It is in getting away from the routine and mundane chores of day-to-day life that we begin to see some similarities with the two major festivals of August and September.

Released from the pressures of day-to-day material existence leaves us with space to lift our eyes beyond the hills, as the psalmist puts it. It gives us the opportunity to do a bit of ‘star-gazing’ metaphorically speaking; to turn our attention to more heavenly or spiritual things (well, more than usual anyway, as we should have at least an occasional eye on such things normally as Christians!) In other words holidays (or holy-days) would be a time when we seek not only physical and mental refreshment and renewal, but also spiritual renewal; an opportunity when released from the stresses of everyday material existence to glimpse heaven and God’s glory.

Sadly, such an opportunity is missed by most. In seeking release from the stresses of normal routine and recovery from the pressures of the rat race, we invariably take recourse to material means. Materialism so governs our lives that the only solution we employ to find healing from what is known as the modern disease – stress – is to immerse ourselves in an over excess of material indulgence. We spend vast amount of money of expensive annual holidays. Now that’s fine if we can afford it! After all, we have worked hard all year and we have earned it.

However, where it doesn't work out, is when we expect to return from 'getting away from it all' and find the problems we went to get away from are still there. To some that can be a major disappointment.

I am reminded of a sad story I heard on the news a few months ago, a woman overwhelmed by massive debts, borrowed even more money, ignored all final demands for payments and went away on an expensive holiday. On return she found that her house had been repossessed and even greater troubles awaited her. Tragically she took her own life. 'Getting away from it all' is not a magical solution in itself, that is exactly what alcoholics and drug addicts are doing.

When we get away for a rest from the pressures and stresses of everyday routine, we must use the opportunity to seek spiritual refreshment also. This is where the real problem of stress lies, within ourselves. It is not stress that is bad and damaging to our health but how we as individuals deal with it; how we react and cope with it. Material over-indulgence offers only superficial gratification it doesn't get to the root of the problem; the foundation of our being; the soul if you like. It is there where 'who we are' lies at the core of our personality. Only if we seek 'soul' refreshment will we repair the damage caused by stress and it is in glimpsing the heavenly, to use my earlier words, that we will find such healing.

It's odd, isn't it, that often when we go on holiday to break away from everyday routine we ditch God as part of the routine package? Now it's no bad thing to take a break from the church, that human institution with all its committees and its routine chores, but let us not confuse that with our personal relationship with God, no matter how closely they are linked, let's be quite clear that taking time away from Church does not mean taking time away from God - that would be to cut ourselves off from the very thing we need - to find refreshment and healing from the problems cause by the complex and stressful lives we lead nowadays.

I learnt the hard way last year when, much to my amazement I nearly fell victim to one of the greatest killers attributable to stress - a heart attack. What was amazing to me at the time was that I thought that it was the time when such a thing was least likely to happen. Resting and relaxed - released from the pressures of everyday life, I was hit by the very thing that such stresses can cause. Now I realize that in all my efforts to find physical and mental rest and relaxation I had overlooked my spiritual needs. This year I hope to return from Greece spiritually refreshed and renewed also!

Finally, on the subject of work, being overburdened with problems and the rest, I would like to leave you with a few verses from a Gospel reading we heard in July on which Marie preached; Matthew 11:28-30 "Come to me, all who labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

Enjoy your holidays (holidays), but don't get away from God; return refreshed and renewed in body, mind AND spirit.

Yours in Christ,
Paul

... are Sunwise kids!

6 things to remember this summer...

- Wear a brimmed sunhat to shade your face and keep your head cool, to prevent heat stroke.
- Wear a T-shirt. A tightly woven T-shirt will protect the body by blocking around 94% of the sun's rays, as long as it is dry. A wet T-shirt only blocks about 80%. (Not many people know that!)
- Wear sun glasses to protect your eyes.
- Have lots of cool drinks to rehydrate. Water is the best drink. Fizzy drinks actually increase the dehydrating effect of the sun!
- Stay in the shade at the hottest times of the day: between 11 am and 3 pm.
- Use a sun protection lotion and reapply it often.

In Memoriam

Arnold Barrett 1929 – 2002

Sadly, after a long fight against cancer Arnold, a good friend and faithful worshipper at All Saints' church, was taken from us during June this year.

Since his move to Ackworth, following his marriage to Valerie in 1963 at St Cuthbert's Church, Arnold was a committed member of All Saints' congregation and a sidesman for many years. Many fellow Christians at

All Saints' will remember his warm smile and friendly greeting.

Arnold was devoted to his family, his two daughters Susan and Helen were baptised, confirmed and married at St Cuthbert's. A proud father-in-law to Christopher and Mark, he also later became a doting granddad to Laura.

In his time, Arnold was also a cricketer of some renown; a fast bowler who played mostly for Castleford Cricket Club, but was offered a contract to play professionally at one time. Also a keen bowler, he was chairman of Valley Gardens bowling club up until he died.

Always very smart, Arnold was a kind and gentle man who would never speak ill of anyone. Honest and truthful, he was a well-loved and well-respected member of this village and church community who will be sadly missed, though he will live long in the memories of family, friends and fellow members of All Saints' as a quiet, thoughtful man of great faith.

Sharing with Deanery Synod

At a recent meeting of Pontefract Deanery Synod it was felt that in order to accomplish the deanery's mission to fulfil its scripturally directed responsibilities that there is a need for more interaction and involvement in joint activities between the parishes.

The Deanery Synod representatives of our parish, whilst recognising the excellent work of Churches Together in Ackworth, also feel that there is currently a dearth of interaction within the Anglican parishes at laity level.

Consequently Emil Brown has taken on the task of drawing up a list of ideas from our parish of joint events and activities to "teach the faith better" to pass onto Deanery Synod.

If you have any ideas, please do not keep them to yourself but give them to Emil. This is a golden opportunity to share any "best practices" in faith teaching across the whole of Pontefract Deanery.

For a large parish like ours, we ought to be able to come up with some good ideas.

Update...

The Repair, Restoration, Re-ordering Appeal has, since its launch last October, raised over £16,000 due to the generosity of parishioners. Our thanks go to them and also to all those whom we have not been able to thank personally.

This start, added to a promised grant from WREN (Waste Recycling Environmental Ltd) of £6,000, will now enable us to go ahead with the more urgent repairs to St Cuthbert's Church roof. However, we still have a long way to go to achieve our final target of £335,000 to complete the full programme of work required.

Once again many thanks to everyone who has contributed so far.

The Diocese of Arundel and Brighton Ecumenical Walking Pilgrimage

LICHFIELD TO LASTINGHAM

Saints Cedd and Chad, brothers
Saturday 17th August – Saturday 31st August

'This year we take steps backward in time to a time in Chad's life at Lastingham where he succeeded his brother, Cedd...'

'Our pilgrimage is Ecumenical. We worship together daily as Christians of different traditions, pausing for prayer stops as places of worship on our way – much has pilgrims have always done. We also get spiritual uplift from the kindness shown to us by the communities we meet.'

The Walking Pilgrimage will pass St Cuthbert's on the 25th August at 3.00 pm and we are invited to join them informally for prayer or to walk for an hour or so. If you would like to join the pilgrimage for a day or more, see the website or approach one of the contacts.

Try one of our barbecue kebab recipes

Mushroom and Vegetable Skewers

(Makes 8 kebabs)

- 4 small red onions, halved
- 1 fennel bulb, quartered
- 1 green pepper, quartered, seeds removed
- 1 red pepper, quartered and seeds removed
- 16 button mushrooms
- 8 bamboo skewers, lightly oiled

Lemon Marinade

- 2 tbs vegetable oil
- 2 tbs lemon juice
- 2 tbs finely chopped parsley

Method

1. Blanch onions, fennel and pepper separately for 2-3 minutes each.
2. Cut each fennel quarter into 4 pieces and cut pepper into cubes. Thread onion halves, fennel pieces, pepper cubes and mushrooms onto skewers. Place kebabs into shallow oven-proof dish.
3. To make marinade, place oil, lemon juice and parsley in a small bowl or jar and mix or shake to combine. Pour marinade over kebabs and leave for about one hour. Drain kebabs before cooking on hot barbecue for about 5 minutes. Turn frequently and brush with marinade during cooking.

Chicken and Leek Skewers

(Makes 10 kebabs)

- 3 chicken breast fillets, skin removed and cut into cubes
- 4 small leeks, cut into 2.5cm/1 inch lengths
- 10 bamboo skewers, lightly oiled

Ginger marinade

- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 2 teasp grated fresh ginger
- 125 ml/4 fl oz soy sauce
- 125 ml/4 fl oz dry sherry
- 2 teasp sugar

Method

1. To make marinade, place garlic, ginger, soy sauce, sherry and sugar in a small saucepan and bring to the boil.
2. Place chicken and leeks in a bowl and pour marinade over. Cover and set aside to marinate for 30 minutes.
3. Preheat barbecue to a high heat. Thread chicken and leek pieces, alternately, on to skewers. Cook on a lightly oiled barbecue, brushing with marinade and turning frequently, for 4-5 minutes or until chicken is cooked.
